The Lions' Pride

SAINT LEO UNIVERSITY • FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 2017 • VOLUME LVII NO. 1 • SINCE 1965

Freshmen Celebrate at Summer Fest

By Emily Kochanski
Campus News Editor

On July 15, Saint Leo welcomed incoming students and their families to the University with a campus-wide blowout. From 12 p.m. to 7 p.m., guests of all ages partied down at Saint Leo's annual Summer Fest.

This year, to avoid the brutal Florida heat, Summer Fest consisted of several indoor activities in cooler locations around campus, such as a party at the Marion Bowman pool, kayaking in the lake, and a painting class in the fine arts building. A video game extravaganza took place in the lobby of apartment five and seemed to be the most popular activity among students, including Kira Parisi, a student and summer staff member for First Year Experience.

"All the games were so cool," Parisi said. "They had different games and systems like Atari to some as new as the Nintendo Switch."

Some visitors chose to get in touch with inner creativity by taking a painting class.

Photos by Emily Kochanski

Students came out on top in the faculty vs. students tug of war match, though it didn't seem to be evenly matched.

All of the events culminated with one final bash in the SCC Bowl at 5 p.m. Guests could chow down on complimentary meals from several food trucks, cool down on an inflatable water slide, or try their luck at winning some nifty raffle prizes, such as tickets to the upcoming Rays vs. Yankees game, all while grooving to a live DJ.

After seeing the fun activities and friendly atmosphere the University has to offer, many incoming freshmen are looking forward to the start of their first semester. Steven Grant, who hails from Orlando, was attracted to Saint Leo's computer science program.

"I'm really looking forward to being able to achieve as much as I can in as little time as possible," said Grant. "I'm also eager to participate in some intramural volleyball."

Just like those in the past, this year's Summer Fest received a spectacular turn out. It proved to be the perfect way for students, both new and returning, to beat the summer and get back into the school spirit.

To view more photos, visit https://www.facebook.com/lionspride-newspaper/

Women's Lacrosse and Golf Under New Leadership

By Vincent Pensabene
Contributing Writer

Saint Leo University Women's Lacrosse program is under a new direction with Caitlin Hansen becoming their new head coach.

In addition to being a head coach that has changed a sub-.500 program to winning their conference title and undefeated conference record, Hansen has played Division II women's lacrosse collegiately, as well as coaching at all three NCAA divisions.

These accomplishments were enough for Hansen to earn her the role of Saint Leo University's head women's lacrosse coach, which will come with the task of pushing the Lions to the Sunshine State Conference title and a potential berth into the NCAA tournament.

Hansen believes that the team has a great chemistry thus far.

"Based on my conversations with the players, I think team chemistry is one of our biggest strengths right now," she said. "The players all seem to have a great relationship with each other and a desire to be successful this season."

Coach Hansen previously coached at Johnson & Wales University in Providence, R.I. for the past four seasons. Last season included JWU to a 16-5 record, which included a 9-0 conference record and the Great Northeast Athletic Conference championship. The Wildcats advanced to their first NCAA tournament, after earning the No. 11 spot in the New England regional poll.

Photo courtesy of Saint Leo Athletics website

Lyndsey Bevill is looking forward to her transition from Greyhound to Lion.

When asked about what made her choose Saint Leo, Hansen said "I was really impressed with the University as a whole. The athletic facilities, especially those for women's lacrosse, were top notch and the community feel of Saint Leo really attracted me. Everyone I met on my first visit to campus spoke very highly of the school and their experience here so I knew I wanted to become part of the family shortly after arriving."

Hansen won the 2017 GNAC Women's Lacrosse Coach of the Year and had nine players, all recruited by Hansen, receiving All-GNAC honors. She posted an overall record of 50-23 (.685) as a head coach in her tenure as coach at Johnson & Wales.

"We will be looking to play a faster pace game and with a major rule change in a 90 second possession clock being implemented for the season," Hansen said. "It should make for more exciting games so hopefully the readers will come out to a game and check us out!"

The Women's lacrosse team is not the only group of athletes receiving new leadership. The women's golf team has hit a hole in one with signing Lyndsey Bevill as their new women's head golf coach.

Bevill has been the assistant women's golf coach for the University of Indianapolis Greyhounds for the past four seasons, where she helped the school become the only non-Florida institution to win the NCAA Division II women's golf championship in her tenure there.

Before that, she served as a graduate assistant coach during the 2011-12 and 2012-13 seasons. She assisted in the program including recruiting, travel coordination, scheduling, and mental and physical player development.

Bevill has experience coaching under championship pressure, as she was on staff for U-Indy's 2015 national championship and their 2016 team that was the national runner-up. The team captured the Great Lakes Valley Conference championship and NCAA East Super Regional championship in all six seasons that Bevill was on the staff.

Bevill is excited about becoming Saint Leo's new head women's gold coach. She is especially grateful to [the Director of Athletics] Fran Reidy and [Assistant Athletic Director] Mike Madagan for the opportunity.

"It's an honor to be coaching in one of the toughest conferences in Division II golf," she said. This is a tremendous program and I look forward to building off the prior success. I'm excited to see what this program can achieve on the course, in the classroom and in the community."

The golf season is around the corner and only time will tell how the players respond to a coach with a championship pedigree. The Lacrosse season doesn't kick off until the spring semester. Be sure to sport some Lion pride and go out and support both teams.

Arts & Entertainment

Movie Pass - The Truth Behind Price Decrease

By Randawnique Coakley
Worldly Education &
Managing Editor

For the avid movie-goers, a handy app has just became handier. Movie Pass, the theater subscription service, drastically lowered the subscription price to $9.95 a month on August 15 2017.

The subscription allows for users to see one movie a day at any participating theater and is accepted at over 91 percent of theaters nationwide. The movie has to be a standard 2-D movie, as the movie pass doesn't support special screenings, such as 3-D or I-max showings. The other restriction for movie pass is that the subscriber can't watch the same movie more than once. The pass is only meant for an individual user, who is 18 years and older, and not for couples or families.

Nevertheless, simply paying $9.95 a month to watch a movie a day is steal. Ever since the beginnings of the service in 2011, the price of subscription fluctuated. The price went from $14.95 to nearly $50, according to Variety, and the price is at an all-time low at $9.95 a month. The day of the reduction, the amount of website visitors increased drastically from an average of 10,000 users a week to 500,000 unique users within 6 hours of the announcement of the price cut, according to Screen Rant.

The subscription service operates via phone connected to the movie pass card, which essentially functions as debit card. The service works as the subscriber uses the app on their phone to select a desired movie and a desired show time at a desired theater. The card is loaded with the necessary cash to buy a single adult ticket and the user must pay for the ticket using the card within 30 minutes. Essentially, Movie Pass pays the full price of the ticket every time the card is used to buy the tickets.

Prior to the price cut, when the subscription price was originally $50, the company could make profits with some subscribers who didn't frequent movie theaters, such as subscribers who visit a movie theater less than four times a month. However, with the price cuts, if a subscriber watches at least two movies a month, the company suffers a loss. Therefore, the low subscription price has baffled a lot of people, as this business model does not seem profitable.

However, this business model comes after Movie Pass sold majority stake to a big-data collection firm, Helios and Matheson Analytics, for $27 million, according to Variety. Therefore, Movie Pass is receiving a large cash infusion and, although it may seem unlikely, both companies seem to benefit from this deal.

The CEO of Movie Pass, Mitch Lowe, who is also co-founder of Netflix, said the movies pass goal is to make it easier for film fans and causal movie-goers to see movies in theaters and to make it more affordable and enjoyable for subscribers, hence the drastic price drop. Along with that, Lowe talked about movie pass being able to change the way consumer think.

Photo from @Variety

According to Screen Rant, the average movie goers are not weekly movie-goers but only go to the movies five or six times a years; most likely during summer time or holiday but with the Movie Pass the attendance will increase.

"Today's acquisition by Helios and Matheson is a huge step towards making our vision a reality by allowing us to introduce a new $9.95 nationwide subscription service that completely disrupts the movie industry in the same way that Netflix and Redbox have done in the years pass," Lowe added in the press release.

Movie pass also allows subscribers to see a wide range of films they would not normally see. According to the Hollywood Reporter, the company gives subscribers the chance to see lower budget movies and also plans to use the app to promote smaller films, as 10 to 17 percent of subscribers see the movie due to marketing, benefitting the film industry as a whole.

Helios and Matheson also benefits by fulfilling their company's mission to continuously innovate, as CEO Ted Farnsworth said in the press release. Farnsworth also said that the goal is to collect data from an assortment of people, which can then be used to target advertisement and to help in marketing strategies to subscribers, as Bloomberg reported.

"It's no different than Facebook or Google," Farnsworth told Bloomberg. "The more we understand our fans, the more we can target them."

Regardless of the motivations behind the subscription price decrease of Movie Pass, there will surely be an increase in attendance to movie theaters. In fact, a 2016 independent report by Mather Economics found that Movie Pass members showed a 100 percent increase in move going and a 123 percent increase in concession revenues. Yes, Movie Pass helps to revenue for concession stand as well, which is a 80 percent profit margins for theaters, as Lowe told the Hollywood Reporter. The price decrease will possibly increase the number of subscribers and increase the rate of movie attendance tremendously, which would do wonders for theaters as the attendance is relatively low. In fact, Bloomberg reported that top four theater chains, including AMC theaters, had lost a total of $ 1.3 billion in market value in the earlier in the month of August due to decreasing ticket sales.

Despite the increase in movie attendance, there are major theater chains that are opposing the new movie plan subscription cost. According to Business Wire, AMC spoke to lawyers days after the price drop, stating that the model is not sustainable gives audiences an unrealistic expectation of the price for movies. Theaters are concerned that movie-goers will still expect low prices for movies even after Move Pass is no longer able to operate.

Despite AMC's concerns, Movie Pass is still able to function with the chain because, as Lowe said, the Movie Pass is essentially a MasterCard debit card. So long as AMC accepts MasterCard, they can't block the Movie Pass reported Business Insider.

Movie Pass has caused a lot of buzz in the past week and will surely continue to be a revolutionary game changer in the film industry in the months to come.

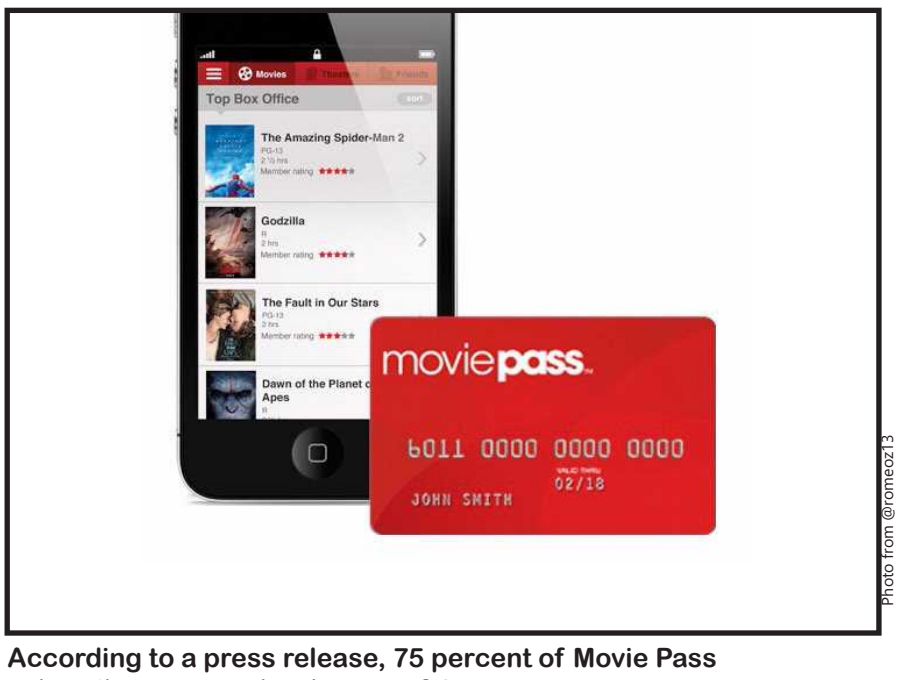

Photo from @romeoz13

According to a press release, 75 percent of Movie Pass subscribers are under the age of 35.

The School of Arts & Sciences Presents

Saint Leo Remembers the '60s

#SaintLeo60s

Fall 2017 Event Schedule

M Aug. 28 – Movie Monday feat Mary Poppins, 7pm Selby

T Sept. 12 – Flower Power at the Caf! and Trivia, 11am-2pm, SCC common areas

W Sept. 13 - Constitution Day: Civil Rights Acts of the '60s (observed Sun. 9/17), 6-8 pm, Kirk 123 & 124

M Sept. 25 – Movie Monday feat. The Right Stuff, 7pm, Selby

T Sept. 26 – Fall Faculty Recital: "Turn! Turn! Turn!" 7pm, Selby

T Oct. 3 – Hispanic Heritage Celebration: '60s Theme, 10-3pm, SCC

T Oct. 10 - Fall Into '60s Song: "Change is Gonna Come" 4pm & 7pm, SCC Boardrooms

M Oct. 30 – Movie Monday feat. Psycho, 7pm, Selby

TH Nov. 16 – Native American History Celebration: AIM and "Red Power,"10am-3pm, SCC Boardrooms

M Nov. 27 – Movie Monday feat. 2001: A Space Odyssey, 7pm, Selby

Arts & Entertainment

The Top Five Things to Do for Fun in Pasco County

By Emily Kochanski
Campus News Editor

As the saying goes, big things often come in small packages. And while little towns like Dade City and Zephyrhills don't appear to have much to offer the younger crowd in the way of excitement, they have recently become some of the biggest sources for fun and local entertainment. When campus life starts to feel a little stale, here are the top five places to visit and events to take in around Pasco County.

5. Down town Dade City Shopping

The historic town has changed little in appearance over the years, but is constantly drumming up new forms of entertainment for its residents. Local shops and eateries are a daily attraction that garner business from customers of all ages looking for unique cuisine, antiques, and collectibles. One shop in particular is quite a handy resource to students in need of light reading material or novels required for class. The Book Shack, a family owned used book store, features a large assortment of genres and new and old texts at reasonable prices. They also off store credit to those who donate unwanted books. For those looking for another form of leisure entertainment, check out Another Man's Treasure, a shop offering an array of vintage collectibles and coveted comics and vinyl records.

4. Wesley Chapel Wiregrass mall

If old fashioned places like Dade City aren't your thing, then Wesley Chapel might be the place for you. The ever-expanding town is home to several eateries, movie theaters, and the scenic outdoor Wiregrass Mall. In addition to the usual assortment of mall vendors, such as Dillard's, Hot Topic, and Charming Charlie, Wirgrass also hosts a monthly farmer's market and art fair, as well as spectacular holiday music and light shows. And for those who tend to walk on the nerdy side of life, Wesley Chapel is also home to War Hammer, a shop that specializes in the latest tabletop fantasy games, and Coliseum of Comics, where hard core fanboys and girls can find the latest issue of their favorite comics and unique collectibles and games.

3. Dade City Events

Dade City shops aim to give back to their community with events like "First Friday," which takes place the first Friday of each month and features extended shop hours, special discounts and deals, food and treats, and live music around every corner. Other eclectic activities include a monthly vintage car show, plays by the local children's theatre community Arts in Motion, and a plethora of holiday events to get you into the Christmas spirit. The annual "Christmas Stroll" and "Church Street Christmas" celebrate all that is magical about the holiday season with breathtaking light displays, free cocoa, and a group of carolers at every doorstep.

Photos by Emily Kochanski

The Mad Dragon features a number of hand crafted Harry Potter items, but guests can also come in to craft their own magical creations.

Wiregrass mall is the perfect place to eat, shop, or simply stroll and soak up some sun.

2. Local Movie Theaters

If you are in the mood for a more easy-going activity, you can't go wrong with a simple trip to the movies. Especially with all the box offices hits that are on the way. Pasco county is home to a wide variety of theaters, including the retro Joy Lan Drive-In in Dade City. The outdoor movie going experience makes for a wonderful evening of entertainment, especially with cooler weather on the way. However, both Zephyrhills Cinema 10 and the Wesley Chapel Cobb Grove 16 offer more options for movies and concession items at reasonable prices. The Grove 16 also offers student discounts, so long as you have your I.D. handy. And if you are looking for something special to adorn your dorm room with, Cinema 10 sells its movie posters to patrons for just five dollars each!

1. Zephyrhills Shopping and Dining

Zephyrhills is consistently becoming a young person's ultimate destination. New live music venues, such as Rhythm and Brews and Creative Souls Café, are popping up along fifth avenue and constantly offering the best in local music, tasty food, and family friendly activities to their loyal patrons. The Zephyrhills Brewing Company has become a popular spot for local high school and college students to hold study sessions or to hang out and have a good time. The venue hosts daily activities, including open mic nights, trivia nights, board game nights, and many more. And just adjacent to fifth avenue, nestled almost completely from view, lies a curious little shop that boasts a magical shopping experience that you won't get anywhere else. The Mad Dragon is a completely "Harry Potter" themed store that sells hand-made items based on the popular book series. Every item is unique and lovingly hand crafted and new merchandise is added almost daily. The owner does an amazing job of recreating the Hogwarts experience and, in doing so, brings a touch of magic and whimsy to the little town of Zephyrhills.

Students don't have to go to Tampa or St. Pete to find themselves a good time. There's so much fun to be had right outside their dorms. Pasco County is always drumming up new businesses, events, and activities, ensuring that Saint Leo students won't have to look far to find some fun.

Dade City offers up a wide variety of shops, from women's apparel to men's collectibles.

The Zephyrhills Cinema 10 is an affordable option for a quality movie-going experience. Perfect for the student cinephile on a budget.

Surviving Your First Year: Budgeting 101

By Erin Gaylord
Former Online Editor

You are officially a college student. Moving out can be exciting, but taking on the responsibility can be daunting as well. Be sure to budget while you are in college to have some extra spending money, but also be able to get everything you need. If you spend all of your money on going out and having fun with friends, you may not be able to afford your necessities such as textbooks and supplies for class.

First, decide if you are going to get a job on campus or off campus, or if you want to work over the summer and save up that money for the school year. If you decide to get a job while you are taking college courses, make sure the job you chose will not be too stressful while you are taking classes. Getting a job on campus is a good option if you are a first-time college student and do not know what to expect. These jobs do not take up too much time, but they are enough to give you some extra spending money.

If you decide to get a job off campus, make sure your employer understands how often you will be in class, and when you will be able to work outside of class. Off-campus jobs could pay more, but you will have to pay more for gas to get back and forth to work as well.

Another option is to work over the summer and save money from that job to have extra spending money for the school year so you can focus more on school. Having a summer job is a good option as long as there is a good budget set for that time and you followed the budget closely so there will be an adequate amount of money left over for the school year.

Once you find out where your money is coming from, you can lay out your budget. The most efficient way to budget is to write it out whether that be on a piece of paper or an Excel spreadsheet. This way you can see the budget, and it may be easier to follow and be strict on yourself with rather than just telling yourself what you should and should not buy. Also with writing it out, you will be able to set up exactly how much you need for each thing, food, clothes, supplies, etc., and know exactly how much you can afford to spend.

Get a job on campus to help with the expenses. Having a job on campus is ideal for students who would like to have a job, but do not want to travel off campus for work or stress about work and school. School jobs do not require as many hours of work as other positions off campus may. Also, there are many different types of jobs on campus. You could pick a position that coincides with your major in some way.

Having a job on campus will help with a little extra spending money to enjoy more time off campus or save up for the future.

Always try to save some money even if it is not a lot. Twenty dollars a paycheck is better than nothing, and soon, that little bit of money each month will add up to a decent amount of savings.

"If your car breaks down or you have an unexpected medical expense, you'll be way ahead of the game if you have money saved in an emergency fund," according to College in Colorado.

If you have money in a savings account, you have some fallback money in case of emergency. This way, you will not have to borrow money, use a credit card, or go without a car or food, etc.

If there is not an emergency where you have to spend part or all of your savings, it can be saved for a place after graduation, a new car, or anything else that you will want or need.

Another way to save money and help your friends out as well is carpooling. If you have a group of friends and several of you have cars, trade off on who drives each time you go out. Dedicate each week in a month to a different person, or keep a list written down of who drove last and keep rotating drivers. By doing this, each person will be saving gas and it will be fairer rather than one person driving most of the time or taking separate vehicles and everyone wasting gas.

By not buying everything you think you need and only getting the bare minimum to start off with, you will avoid wasting your money. If you only buy what you know you will need for class or your dorm room; you could save money for other things. If you end up needing something later, buy it then, but do not buy everything to start off with. You may not even use it.

If you have the unlimited meal plan, do not bother buying a lot of food for your dorm room. You could save that money for something else. Take advantage of your meal plan. Do not eat out very often. Allow yourself one meal off campus a month or do not eat out at all, if possible. This way you will not throw away spending money when you have already paid for a meal plan on campus.

Also, selling your textbooks when you are done with them could give you some money back. There are several options for selling your books. You could sell them back to the bookstore, sell them online, or sell them to someone you know will take that class. By selling your textbooks, you could use that money to buy books for the next semester or year and not have to worry about spending a whole lot on textbooks for that semester.

Before selling your textbooks, look up how much the used book in the condition that it is in costs online. Take a little bit off of the price from that and sell it. This way you know you are getting the right amount for your book, and you are not losing money.

Another way to price your books can be to write down how much you spent on them when you bought them. Then take some off of that for any wear and tear or if you bought it new, but now it is used.

Keep your budget up to date when you buy things, and at the end of the year look the amount of money you spent. See what was necessary and what was not. Looking at the numbers will give you a good idea of how well you are budgeting, and you can plan better for the next year.

If saving money in a savings account is too tempting to spend, try using a jar or other container to put saved money in.

Picture from @AmericanActionForum

Local News

The Deal with Student Discounts

By Wakens Leonard
Photography Editor

It's official, you're now a college student! As an incoming freshman, you have all of Saint Leo University to explore. But did you know that your student ID carries a lot more power than you think? This is often referred to as the student discount, so be sure to take advantage of it and make good use of your money. The following is a list of locations near Saint Leo, as well as some online outlets, that offer student discounts and have been verified by The Lions' Pride Newspaper staff. Some of these companies offer student discounts on school supplies and textbooks so you don't break the bank before school even begins.

Picture by: Emily Kochanski

Al's lunch special gives you two slices of pizza and a fountain drink for just $5.

Online

Amazon Prime Student
With Amazon Prime's student discount, students get six months of Amazon Prime for free. Once the six months are up, students can choose to upgrade to Amazon Prime for 50 percent off of its regular price of $49 per year.

Apple
With Apple's "education pricing" program, students and teachers can enjoy a five percent discount on many Apple products, up to $200 off certain products, or even a free pair of Beats headphones with certain purchases.

Microsoft
Not an Apple fan? Many PC companies offer discounts as well. Microsoft offers discounts on their Surface Laptop, Surface Pro, and Microsoft Office 365 to those students with valid ID's.

Dell
"Dell University" is a section of the Dell corporation that specifies in selling technology at discounted rates for students. Lenovo offers a 10 percent discount to students sitewide.

Adobe
If any of your courses require the use of Adobe products, Adobe offers up to 60 percent off of their Creative Cloud.

Clothing

Banana Republic
This normally expensive clothing retailer offers a 15 percent discount to students.

Dockers
This casual clothing retailer gives students a 20 percent discount sitewide.

J.Crew
J.Crew offers a 15 percent discount on non-sale items, but in stores only.

Levis
This high quality jean company normally offers a 15 percent discount on their merchandise, but is currently offering a special promotion which ups the discount to 25 percent.

Topshop
Students with a valid ID will receive a 10 percent discount off of their entire purchase.

Tommy Hilfiger
Tommy Hilfiger offers a 15 percent student discount to students with a valid student ID.

Picture by: Emily Kochanski

Burger King is one of the closest fast food places to campus, located on US-301 in front of the Publix.

Entertainment

Cobb Theaters
Cobb Theater tickets cost students about $9.50, but on Thursdays students can expect to only pay $7.50.

Cinemark
Cinemark charges students $8.75 vs. the regular $10.75 rate.

Spotify
Rather than paying the regular $10 a month, students' account prices are cut in half to an affordable $5 a month. Perfect for the avid music fan.

Transportation

Amtrak
With Amtrak, students with a

Picture by: Emily Kochanski

The New York Times includes sections that cover everything from domestic and international politics and business to style and real valid ID can get 15 percent off of their ticket when they book at least three days in advance. You may also bring two carry-on bags and two checked bags. The trains also provide electrical outlets and free Wi-Fi.

Greyhound
Greyhound gives students 10 percent off of their fare. Passengers are allowed one carry-on and one checked bag for free, with a $15 fee for each additional bag.

Penske
Although this company doesn't transport passengers, when it comes time to move in or out, Penske can be useful if you have tons of stuff. They give students 10 percent off on all truck or van rentals. You must to be 18 or older to rent a truck.

Insurance

Allstate
Allstate offers up to 20 percent off if you are a single, full-time student.

Geico
"B" average students can receive up to 15 percent off.

State Farm
Students can expect up to 25 percent off, so long as they're getting good grades.

Farmers
Students with a 3.0 GPA can receive up to 20 percent off.

Periodicals

The New York Times
If you are an avid news fan, the New York Times offers their digital subscription at a discounted rate for students. The first four weeks on a discounted subscription come free with a $1 rate afterwards.

The Wall Street Journal
The Wall Street Journal offers a 75 percent discount on their digital subscription.

Food

Al's Pizza Shop
Al's Famous Pizza is currently offering a promotion for two one-topping pizzas for just $12.

On Q Smokehouse Grill
On Wednesdays, On Q gives Saint Leo students 10 percent off of their meals.

Burger King & Subway
Burger King and Subway each offer a 10 percent discount at participating locations.

Keep in mind, this list barely even scratches the surface. Don't hesitate to ask other nearby locations if they offer any useful deals or discounts to hard-working college students.

Disclaimer
Please keep in mind that all of these discounts are subject to change or can possibly be discontinued by these companies.

Picture by: Emily Kochanski

The Cobb Theater nearest to campus is located in the Grove at Wesley Chapel plaza; perfect for a day or evening of shopping and a movie!

JOURNALISM...
the WRITE minor for you!

Close reading, thorough researching, critical thinking, and clear and effective writing are all essential skills needed for any career. The journalism minor will enhance and strengthen your current major by providing these essential skills.

For More Information Contact: valerie.kasper@saintleo.edu / St. Ed's 341

Journalism Minor (total credits = 18)

Complete the following required courses:
- ENG 205 Intro to Professional Writing
- ENG 227 Basic Journalistic Writing
- ENG 441 Advanced Journalism
- ENG 428 Internship OR ENG 318 Pre-internship

Choose two of the following courses:
- ENG 332 Creative Non-fiction
- ENG 450 Desktop Publishing and Design
- ENG 430 The Independent Writer
- COM 333 Web Design and Information Resources

JOIN THE PRIDE

Do you like writing, editing, photography, layout & design, and/ or multimedia?

Gain practical experience that can be applied to any future profession you choose.

Teamwork
Communication Skills
Writing/Editing/Design/Multimedia Skills
Time Management Skills
Ability to Meet Deadlines
Ability to Work Independently

For more information, contact Mrs. Valerie Kasper (valerie.kasper@saintleo.edu) or to apply, go to http://www.saintleo.edu/employment.aspx and search for our job postings using the keyword "Newspaper."

http://lionsprideonline.com/